

NEW FALL 2018 COURSE!!

BIOS 368: PLANTS IN HUMAN MEDICINE: BIOLOGICAL, SOCIAL, & ETHICAL DIMENSIONS

3-credits (Biology & Plant Biology Majors)

MWF 1:30-2:20pm

Dr. Sabrina Russo (208 Manter Hall, srusso2@unl.edu)

Registration open mid-April for Fall 2018

- Biological & evolutionary origins of plant-derived medicinal compounds
- Use of plants in human medicine & nutrition, including treatment of diseases of major organ systems, cancer prevention, & wellness
- Human cultural diversity in use of plants in human around the globe
- Bioprospecting, development, clinical trials, & regulation of herbal medicine